Gestapo Revived In East Germany Under Red Rule

By THOMAS A. REEDY

BERLIN—(P)—East Germany is to have its regimented youth and all-powerful Gestapo, just like in the days of Hitler.

With an unquestioning raise of hands the Communist-controlled Volkskammer (people's chamber) yesterday passed two laws which appear to roll the calendar back to 1933.

One bill creates a new ministry of state security to direct a special secret police force outside the ministry of interior. This political force is to have unlimited authority to arrest and imprison any suspected "enemy agents, spies and saboteurs."

The other law virtually forces some 3,000,000 youth in the Soviet zone of Germany to become members of the FRJ—the free German youth. They must join if they want to participate in even the most ordinary every-day activities, including sports, certain school work and the choice of profession.

Fortune Toted In Paper Sack

Detroiter Grilled
About $37,150 Cash

DETROIT—(P)—Police grilled four men and a woman today on their possession of a paper bag containing $37,150 in cash.

Whether there was any evidence linking the five with the $2,500,000 Brink's Inc. robbery in Boston, however, police refused to say.

The five, arrested in a parked car here early yesterday, insisted the money represented gambling proceeds.

Beyond that, they weren't talking, said Police Inspector Walter Yrond.

With the FBI taking part in the inquiry, authorities here were in contact with Boston and other eastern cities.

At the same time police were checking recent jewelry and fur robberies in the nation in an effort to determine if any loot had appeared here and been handled by a fence's.

Brink's in Boston was robbed Jan. 17 by nine men who escaped with $1,500,000. A day earlier holdup men took $48,000 from the Stetler hotel in Boston.

Circulars on the five under arrest here were distributed to cities on the Eastern seaboard.

On a routine checkup the five were seized at 3:15 a. m. yesterday in a so-called "hoodlum neighborhood." A paper bag in the car bulged with $28,000 in $100 bills and $9,150 in $50 bills.

Held on a technical "for investigation" charge were John Gach, 35, and his bride of three weeks, Dorothy 22; Merle DePietro, 29; Steve Settas, 29 and Steve Vitale, 25.

Thieves Give Up Job On Packard Co. Safe

NEWARK, N. J.—(P)—Thieves broke into the Packard Motor company early yesterday to do a job on the office safe.

They went at it first with an acetylene torch from the company's repair shop. But their gas supply ran out.

Next they attacked the safe, which held $350 in cash, with sledhammers. Also no success.

Police said they finally gave up and battered a cigarette machine in the office for $2 worth of nickels and dimes.

NO SNOW FOR SHOW

CLARE—(P)—Lack of snow has caused postponement of Clare county's winter festival until Feb. 17-19. The celebration will feature ski races at Snowshoe Mountain originally scheduled for last weekend.

Snowfall was expected to be light.

DETROIT—(P)—A jewelry saleswoman told police two bandits snatched $20,000 in gems and cash from her, then disappeared in the crowd at the Michigan Central railroad station last night.

Mrs. Mildred Pickoff, 30, of Brooklyn, N. Y., said the men fled with two briefcases containing platinum wristwatches and unset diamonds, $159 in cash and $120 in checks.

Actress Jean Wallace, 25, was convicted yesterday after a trial in which she contended police men offered to drop the charge if she'd "be nice" to them.

LOS ANGELES—(P)—The ex-wife of Franchot Tone faces sentencing Friday on a charge of drunken driving Christmas eve, the night officers say they found her in her car clad only in lace panties and a coat.

FIRE IN STAMP RACKET —

Harold F. Ambrose (above), $10,000-a-year special assistant to Postmaster Jesse M. Donaldson, has been fired for perpetrating a scheme that milked large sums from "speculators" in fake deals in U. S. stamps, the postmaster announced in Washington. Donaldson said that positively no postoffice department funds nor actual stamps were involved in the bizarre scheme, under which Ambrose paid off his first credulous "investors" with sums received from later "clients". ## Father, Too Old To Live, Killed

Son Admits Slaying
At Gary, Ind.

GARY, Ind.—(P)—A 65 year old steelworker, the father of 12 children, was fatally shot in his home last night and police said his 29 year old son admitted slaying him because "he was too old to live."

Police held the son, John Purevich, an unemployed millhand, for further questioning in the slaying of his father, Alex, as he sat in their living room. No charge was placed against him immediately.

Detective Sgt. James Traeger said the young woman tried last night to jump from a fifth-story window at police headquarters.

Officers said Mrs. Johnson was waiting to be arraigned when she jumped onto a chair and climbed to windowsill. Police matron Eleanor Phillips said only the fact that the unbarrled window was closed prevented the girl from leaping before police reached her.

Johnson lived in Munising about 10 years ago, and was at the home of Mrs. Anton Louis, whom Dowling identified as Johnson's sister, when taken.

A daughter, Mrs. Frances Jurein, found her father's body sprawled on the floor when she stopped in to visit. She said her brother was in the living room, reading.

Another daughter, Mrs. Helen Rebach, was quoted by Traeger as saying: "I saw this coming. It's those comic books and radio programs."

Petitions Request Governor To Oust Grand Ledge Justice

LANSING—(P)—Petitions asking Governor Williams to remove Grand Ledge's feuding justice of the peace were being scrutinized today for their legality.

Clark J. Adams, Williams' legal adviser, said the governor would appoint a probate judge to hear testimony for and against the justice, Charles F. Young, if the attorney general found the petitions were legal as to form.

Prosecutor Robert C. Carr of Eaton county filed petitions bearing the names of 95 citizens, asking the ouster of Justice Young. Recently the justice has had Grand Ledge in an uproar by imposing contempt of court sentences on the local police chief, a newspaper publisher and an attorney.

The petitions alleged that Justice Young was unfit for an office of trust, that he was guilty of "malicious and premeditated vengeance" and exercised illegal and autocratic powers.

Coroner Harry E. Leadley termed the death a suicide. He said that Zufelt had recently re-enlisted in the navy but was discharged after medical treatment and was despondent.

Ask To Quit Branch Line

Narenta To Felch Run 'Unprofitable'

The Chicago and North Western railway today asked authority in Washington to abandon its 35½ mile branch line between Narenta and Felch. The railroad told the Interstate Commerce Commission traffic on the line does not warrant its continued operation.

Known as the Metropolitan branch, the line was built for the hauling of forest products out of that area. Shipments have declined in recent years.

This winter, the C. & N. W. has been operating a train on the Metropolitan branch about once per week. It has been hauling mostly pulpwood.

Only other industry on the branch line is the Metronite quarry at Felch, which has been shipping a couple carloads per week of stone to Milwaukee for use in the manufacture of talcum powder, paints and other products. The stone is shipped in gondolas, covered with tarpaulins.

Cargo Says U. P. Farms Need More Good Pasture

The problem on many Upper Peninsula farms is to provide more good pasture in midsummer and to lengthen the pasture season, especially in spring. William Cargo, Michigan State College experiment station crops specialist, advises farmers.

Now holding a series of meetings in Delta county, Cargo offers a pasture plan guide, suggesting oats, millet, sudan grass and corn as annual crops that will fill in the summer months until more permanent crops such as alfalfa-brome can be established.

The suggestions on pasture improvement and hay and grain crops were offered to Delta county farmers of the Bark River area yesterday afternoon; to veterans receiving on-the-farm training in Escanaba last night. Today his meeting schedule includes Garfield and Cornell.

Upper Peninsula pastures were heavily overstocked during and just after the war, Cargo said. Overgrazing reduces the vigor of the pasture grasses, cuts down the total yield and aids the growth of weeds. Economical production of dairy and other livestock products depends on an abundant supply of good pasture throughout the entire grazing season.

Many farmers depend on native pasture, meadow aftermath and new seedings — and suffer pasture shortage in July and August, Cargo pointed out. Close and continuous grazing of meadow aftermath will reduce the hay crop the following year. The same applies to new seedings. Too early grazing of permanent pasture in the spring also tends to decrease the season's production of forage, he said. However, meadow aftermath may well be pastured after it has a good start and new seedings may be grazed late in the season after growth has stopped.

Rye furnishes good pasture in the spring, lengthens the pasture season, and its use will allow the permanent grass pastures to get a good start before cattle are put on them, he added.

Nitrogen applied to grass pastures when growth first starts will make earlier pasture and increase the production but it will not lengthen the season at the summer's end, farmers were advised. Fertilization with 0-20-0 will stimulate white clover where

Fire Starts Most Often From Faulty Electric Wiring.

Deranged Veteran, 26, Trapped By Tear Gas; Skillet Fires Bullets

PATERSON, N. J.—(P)—Police used tear gas yesterday to capture a deranged veteran who had barricaded himself in his apartment and shot off bullets by frying them in a skillet.

Police said the 26-year-old man had held them at bay outside the apartment by threatening to shoot anyone who came in. When they did get in, they said, the veteran was found with both arms slashed and bleeding.

The men, identified by police as David Higham, needed 50 stitches to close the cuts on his arms. He was treated at Paterson General hospital and then removed to the Passaic county institution at Hopewell for observation. The cuts were not serious, doctors said.

Police captured Higham by climbing a fire escape across an inner court from his apartment and tossing tear gas bombs through his window.

But when the police searched the apartment, the only weapon they found was an old bayonet. There was no gun, despite Higham's threats to shoot if anyone entered.

He told police he had shot off

Shabby Recluse Dies, Leaves $20,000 Gift To Salvation Army

BANGOR, Mich.—(P)—A shabby-clad recluse who died a week ago has left $20,000 to the Salvation Army, Van Buren county authorities said today.

The will of Alexander Dobson Gilchrist Van Ommeren, 70, was revealed today by County Prosecutor John Verdonk.

The prosecutor said Van Ommeren, who lived in a small farmhouse near here, left his entire estate to the Salvation Army. It included $17,000 deposited in a local bank and about $3,000 in property.

Before his death Van Ommeren told the prosecutor he hoped to leave his money to the Salvation Army because it was "the best way to help the poor."

Van Ommeren had lived alone in the house since his well-to-do parents died in 1931. He was found dead there early last week.

A spokesman, however, said that does not mean a strike is imminent. He said that under procedures of the National Railway Mediation Act a strike could not possibly occur before late spring.

The two unions are the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors.

Together they represent a total union membership of about 200,000 railroad workers. The spokesman said 95.5 per cent of them approved a strike. No strike date has been set and probably will not be before the end of this week or the first of next week, the spokesman said.

Tickets for all three events are available at Gust Asp's, the Chamber of Commerce office, from Britton Hall, the West End Drug store, and in Gladstone at the three drug stores.

Bargaining By Unions Restored In France

PARIS—(P)—French trade unions will soon be permitted to engage in collective bargaining with employers for the first time since the outbreak of war in 1939.

By a vote of 451 to 0, the National assembly last night passed a bill restoring the right to bargain collectively. The law will remove official ceilings and controls placed on wages just before the outbreak of war. The new law requires compulsory conciliation attempts in labor disputes but leaves arbitration optional.

Before his death Van Ommeren told the prosecutor he hoped to leave his money to the Salvation Army because it was "the best way to help the poor."

Van Ommeren had lived alone in the house since his well-to-do parents died in 1931. He was found dead there early last week.

Hearings Ended

WASHINGTON, — (P)—President Truman's fact finding board ended its hearings on the coal dispute today and went to work on a report to the White House.

Once the president gets the report he can ask Attorney General McGrath to seek a court order for the 370,000 striking coal miners to go back to work.

The board cut off its hearings with an announcement by chairman David L. Cole that the board's observations during fruitless direct bargaining negotiations yesterday had given it needed information about the issues.

John L. Lewis, leader of the miners, and the coal operators talked issues for nearly eight hours yesterday under prodding from the board. But they couldn't get to an agreement.

The board is under instructions to report to Mr. Truman by Monday at the latest.

Cole said he thought the board-have to watch the situation. It knew it faced a crisis. A Pennsylvania railroad spokesman said his road had "about 11 days" supply of coal on hand.

The Interstate commerce commission ordered that railroads make 25 per cent cut in their coal-burning freight services. And they were told to cut coal-burning passenger services to 50 per cent of the services operated last December 1.

A coal operator who asked that his name not be used said he believed further cuts in industry-at-large would materialize almost immediately because there's no sign of immediate peace in the drawn-out dispute.

Miners in the fields were generally quiet. Last night rumors circulated early in the evening that peace was imminent. Some newspaper offices reported many calls from miners. Then, as word came from Washington for hours, the calls slackened off.

No Word Here

Leonard Reynolds, division superintendent of the Chicago and North Western railway, said late today he was awaiting an announcement from the Chicago headquarters concerning what coal-burning trains will be cancelled on the Peninsula division.

An official order likely will be received Friday morning if the coal dispute is not settled.

Churchill Not Seeking Office

British Leader Says He Hates Socialism

LONDON—(P)—Winston Churchill, who says he has fulfilled "even the wildest dream of my youth," declares he has no political ambitions in running for office again.

The 75-year-old wartime prime minister, touring the kingdom to seek votes for his Conservative party and against the Labor party of Prime Minister Clement Attlee, said the only thing that keeps him working is his great fear "for the state into which our country is getting."

Traffic Signals Need Revision

TRAFFIC control lights can be a highly effective aid to the handling of traffic at busy intersections but the National Safety Council, which keeps the most up-to-date records on traffic accidents, concedes that traffic lights improperly regulated or poorly located can also increase traffic problems.

The regulation of the traffic control signals at the intersection of Ludington and 11th streets, we believe, is a case in point. These traffic lights are admittedly beneficial to the flow of pedestrian traffic at this intersection. They provide an opportunity for shoppers to cross the street without being forced to thread their way through moving automobile traffic. The 11th street light, however, is primarily a pedestrian light and consequently the operation of the signals in evening hours, other than Friday evening when the stores are open, does not make good sense.

There simply is not enough pedestrian traffic to require special controls after the stores are closed. And surely there is not enough automobile cross traffic at 11th street in the evening hours and on Sundays to warrant continued operation of the traffic lights that serve only to impede the flow of Ludington street traffic needlessly.

Another improvement in traffic control that seems highly desirable is synchronization of the 11th and 14th street traffic signals. These lights can be timed and should be timed so that a motorist forced to stop at a red light at one of these corners need not stop again three blocks away.

Progress Shown In Smoke Abatement

THE cloud of smoke, soot and fly ash that belched from the city steam plant for so many years and caused so much criticism and objections in the community, has finally disappeared. City officials are happy to report that not a single complaint has been received for weeks.

The new boiler in the steam plant, new smokestack and fly ash trap and new firing techniques developed in the modernization of the steam plant has licked the smoke problem that at one time was so bad that a rebellion within the community was brewing.

Correction of the city steam plant smoke problem also has stimulated action towards solving other sources of smoke pollution in the community, although it must be conceded that we still have much work to be done in this field.

The next logical course of action is the adoption of a smoke abatement ordinance with adequate provisions for enforcement. Obviously this could not be done as long as the city itself was the worst offender in air pollution, as it was in the years during which the steam plant belched its smoke and soot over the community.

Some good progress in smoke abatement has been made here as a result of the survey conducted last summer by the Coal Producers Committee for Smoke Abatement.

It's Getting Warmer, Scientists Report

WEATHER experts who take a long range view of the American climate, are of the opinion that there is a definite fifty-year or so trend toward warmer weather. This is the case not alone in the East, but over many areas of the whole northern hemisphere, says W. H. Ahlmann, a Swedish glaciologist.

This man says we are clearly in a period tending toward climatic mildness, with average temperatures slowly inching upward. As one piece of evidence he offers the fact that many glaciers in Scandinavia and Iceland are slowly retreating. Washington weather sharps say that no one can know for sure whether it will continue getting warmer as it has for the past fifty years, but that the end of the higher temperature cycle may not be far away.

Scientists say that there has been an increase of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere, and that it may act to prevent "outgoing radiation" of the sun's heat after it has struck the earth's surface. The entire northeastern United States had its third warmest wintertime record last year. During the year New York City had 1,500 degrees of temperature in excess of normal. Excess temperature of more than four degrees for a whole year is considered remarkable. Snow has been practically absent from New England this winter. Thousands of ski trips had to be cancelled.

On the other hand, cold polar air seems to have been trapped over Alaska, the Yukon and northern Canada for weeks. Should it break through, February and March will be the chilliest here for some years. But for a long pull, there isn't much change in the weather. Records kept at Sault Ste. Marie for about 130 years indicate that the average weather for say ten years, added up carefully, varies less than one degree. The weather, the snows, rains and winds manifest in cycles which tend to return, over periods of time, to about the same volume of ups and downs which has prevailed all through recorded history.

A Tiger With Big Teeth

MORLEY CASSIDY, a staff member of the Philadelphia Bulletin, and a foreign correspondent of high reputation, has written a series of articles on Australia and New Zealand, where the voters recently turned long-established socialist governments out of office, replacing them with relatively conservative governments. In one of them he said, "Australians, in these days of full employment and mass prosperity, had every reason, it would seem, to vote in droves to 'play it safe'; to vote for 'more of the same.' They didn't. They voted, instead, for a return to the old path of free enterprise and competition, a firmer hand with strikes, an end to government monopolies."

An interesting commentary has also been made by J. F. Williams, editor-in-chief of the Melbourne Herald. The voters, he said in effect, were frightened by the growing aggressiveness of the socialists in their attempts to nationalize all the means of production, distribution and exchange. They learned, he wrote, "that socialization was no quiet, domestic pet, but a tiger, with big teeth."

In other words, the "tiger with big teeth" was at last getting close to the people as a whole. Socialism always starts out by taking over a few big industries—electric power, transportation, communication, finance. These enterprises may seem remote to the majority of men and women. But, once basic industry is in the hands of the government, socialism marches triumphantly on, crushing free enterprise on a step by step basis. Britain's Labor party provides an excellent current example of that fact. The platform on which it will run in this year's general election includes public ownership of such industries as cement, sugar refining, meat slaughtering and wholesaling, and cold storage plants. In time, if it continues to be successful at the polls, it will undoubtedly take over the corner grocery stores, the pubs, and everything else that plays a part in the economy.

It is true, of course, that in many industrial processes there can be no substitution. That is so, in part at least, in the steel industry.

But here the demands that Lewis has been able to enforce because of his monolithic hold have created a distortion with serious implications for the whole economy. It has contributed to price rises that have steadily pushed up the whole price level. As a result many Americans—in agriculture and outside the unionized industries—are being priced out of the market.

This can become a factor to be taken seriously account of perhaps even by the end of this year. If enough people are priced out of the market, it will be quickly felt in a lessening demand for consumer goods.

Even a mild depression would be likely to play havoc with the welfare system that Lewis has got out of the coal industry; a system that has little relation to actuarial soundness.

The United Mine Workers is not the only union that has exploited a monopoly position. Another that comes to mind at once is the printers' union, with its demands that have played a part in the demise of so many newspapers and, therefore, in a sharp decline in the number of jobs.

COAL STRIKE HARMFUL

The public finds itself more and more often caught between the maneuvers of the managers of big business and big labor. Senator Willis Robertson put in a bill recently that would bring trade unions under the anti-trust laws if it can be established that they do in fact exercise an unreasonable monopoly in an industry affecting the nation's health and welfare.

No quick explanations, of course, will be complete, but there probably is a good deal of significance in the two sets of facts which must immediately spring to mind in connection with the mention of these two states.

Louisiana, unfortunately, labors still under the financial legacy of the one-man government, a demagogic dictatorship of Huey Long. If Lester Velie is correct in articles in Collier's magazine, more than a little of that heritage persists in the subtle political influence of Leander H. Perez, whom he describes as the "Kingfish of the Dixiecrats."

Nebraska, meanwhile, is a state with a tradition of insistence on political morality. It is also the one state whose lawmaking body consists of one house instead of two. Without an atmosphere of integrity a unicameral legislature might be dangerous, but in Nebraska it gets things done.

Take My Word For It... Frank Colby

IS IT A SACRILEGE TO QUESTION MR. WEBSTER?

A retired professor, Dr. C. R. Bryson, of Little Rock, has charged me with inconsistency. He complains, in effect: When the dictionary disagrees with you, you criticize it for being out-of-date, or unrealistic, or mistaken. When the dictionary agrees with you, you seek to prove your point by citing the dictionary!

The good doctor, I fear, hasn't used his best grade of logic, for his criticism implies that "the dictionary" agrees or disagrees with me. Not so. It is I who agree or disagree with "the dictionary." That's a horse of another color.

Also, Dr. Bryson seems to imply that there is something dubious in my refusal to accept "the dictionary" as the supreme, infallible authority. Again, not so. If this column merely parroted what is in "the dictionary," it would be a waste of good newsprint and of the readers' time.

The dictionaries do not create correctness. Their function is to report good usage. The function of this column is to report good usage. When a dictionary states that the word "chiffon" is pronounced "SHIFF-un," baton is "BAT-un," and homogenize is "HOE-moe-jen-ize," it is not reporting good usage. Those pronunciations are actually mispronunciations, and this column is the better reporter for giving the pronunciations at ba-TON, shi-FON, and hoe-MODGE-uh-nize.

Pronunciations are not correct simply

Lewis Heading Into Trouble

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—Next Sunday, which is Lincoln's birthday, John L. Lewis will be 70 years old. For a good part of that long lifetime Lewis has exercised a power as nearly autocratic as any in this country.

But it is sometimes forgotten that even this autocrat with a flair for melodrama has had his ups and downs. At the bottom of the depression his union was shattered by rebellion. With thousands of miners out of work the union treasury was nearly flat.

Lewis hitched a ride on the New Deal in its NRA phase. With the aid of the Roosevelt administration, he welded the United Mine Workers into a personal hierarchy with himself at the top of the pyramid. In a deal with the coal miners he got the closed shop and the checkoff of union dues and his position appeared to be un-touchable.

In my opinion he is riding for a fall in this late phase of his fantastic career. The reason why this appears to be so have little to do with Lewis' union practices or even with the intricate politics of organized labor as they weave through both major parties.

COAL BEING PRICED OUT

The basic reasons lie in the economy of the coal industry and, in particular, as that industry relates to the rest of the nation's economic life. Coal is being priced out of the competitive market in one field after another.

Millions of householders have switched from coal to oil and natural gas. Even in New England, remote from the fields, natural gas lines are being pushed. While that movement has been temporarily held up by differences over financing, it will in all probability soon go forward again. Nearly two-fifths of the nation's locomotives are now powered by oil or electricity.

It is true, of course, that in many industrial processes there can be no substitution. That is so, in part at least, in the steel industry.

But here the demands that Lewis has been able to enforce because of his monolithic hold have created a distortion with serious implications for the whole economy. It has contributed to price rises that have steadily pushed up the whole price level. As a result many Americans—in agriculture and outside the unionized industries—are being priced out of the market.

AND LIKE IT!—For many men who have led a routine life in a routine job, retirement can leave them as uncomfortable as a fish out of water.

They feel life no longer needs them. The days ahead look bleak and uneventful. Never having developed hobbies or had any other interest than their work, they are unable to adapt their life to sudden leisure.

The answer to retirement for many people is to work harder—and like it.

This can be done by planning years in advance, what you will do when you retire—and starting some of those activities before retirement actually comes.

If you plan to garden, to golf, or to take an active interest in politics—begin warming up on those activities before age 65. The transition to retirement will be easier.

NO IDLENESS—Worst enemy of older folks in retirement is idleness. Boredom can shorten a life quicker than unceasing work.

Until the "welfare state," with its planned security and enforced retirement, Americans kept busy by necessity. Pioneers who lived to a ripe old age were productive until the end came. Grandma dropped over, hoo in hand; Grandma rocked herself gently into the next world still clutching her knitting needles.

By keeping busy you may add years to your life. In any event you will add life to your years.

WHY MOVE AWAY—Some older folks in retirement make the mistake of moving away from the old home town.

it they must start again to develop friendships, to associate themselves with new conditions, and to establish a standing in a new town. Until this is accomplished, they will feel a sense of loss.

If they had remained in the community in which they had worked and lived for many years they would find that community helpful in providing an active and productive old age.

Unless it is necessary to move for reasons of health, older folks will find their greatest happiness in retirement among their friends in the old home town.

FINANCES—First consideration in planning for retirement is to plan for some degree of financial security. Social security, savings accounts and pension funds will help—but so also will be a determination that retirement does not necessarily mean a complete end to earning power.

Spare time, part time work bring needed revenue and add interest to life. Reducing the cost of living budget will help.

The problem of retirement is that it faces millions of Americans. It can be successfully solved by the individuals—or a social agency. Declining years can be as happy, as productive and worthwhile as the individual plans to make them.

12th Annual Escanaba Ice Show Opens At Fairgrounds Rink At 8:15 Tonight

'Biggest Small-Town Skating Revue In World' Begins 4-Day Stand; 20 Acts, 150 In Cast

One hundred fifty trim Escanaba figure skaters tonight open the 12th annual Escanaba Ice Revue, "The Biggest Small Town Ice Show in the World," at the indoor rink in the U P State Fairgrounds exhibition building.

The skaters will perform in 20 separate production numbers, in elaborate costumes and classic settings. Bill Clark will furnish music for the gala event, and Larry Girard will emcee the show.

Governor G. Mennen Williams will be a special guest at the traditional ice show Sunday afternoon. The revue will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, beginning at 8:15 p. m., and Sunday afternoon, at 2:15 p. m. An added feature this year will be the appearance of all candidates for the title of Queen of the North, on Friday evening. The Upper Michigan queens will skate shortly before intermission Friday night, for their tests.

As usual, a large number of out-of-town persons, many of them distinguished in their fields, will attend the revue. Among talent scouts who will witness the production are Rose Marie Stewart Dench and Robert Dench of the Ice Capades, representatives from Holiday on Ice, Reginald Voorhees of "Fleekles at Chicago and Randolph Avery, director of Avery's Revue.

Experts in lighting and acoustics designed plans for this year's ice revue. Under direction of Father Plave of Escanaba, a very effective setting, utilizing ice sculpture, lighted balloons, and "flicked" scenery, will enhance the production.

The ice varieties will open tonight with a whirl of skaters performing while the St. Cecilia Choir, under direction of Father Louis Cappo, offers introductory choral numbers. Donna Sullivan and Billy Goodreau, the King and Queen of the 1949 Ice Revue, will then perform in a double, as Little Girl, Little Boy.

Seven of the 20 acts are large production numbers. This year, the cast for the show has been reduced to offer a tighter, more polished show.

Among the large numbers are "April Showers", featuring children four to seven years of age; "Toyland," in which 22 dancing dolls, a line of wooden soldiers and a unique toymaker are featured; "Jungle Rhythm," for which Carolyn Johnson and Jim Cretens solo; "L'Apache," with Mrs. Jeanette LeCaptain, ice director of the show, as Girtie; and "Rhapsody in Blue," with Carolyn Johnson and Bob Schwalbach as featured skaters.

A pageant in which skaters will create the mood of holiday promises to be an entertaining number on the program. Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Moore will skate for "Uncle Sam and Betsy Ross," Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bertrand and Marquita Lieungh will be featured in "Thanksgiving Time." Grand Rapids Looks
For Hot Campaign To Elect New Mayor

GRAND RAPIDS—(P) The stage was set Friday for one of the hottest political campaigns the city has seen in years.

Four prominent men—including ex-mayor George W. Welsh—remained in the Feb. 20 primary race for mayor. The deadline for withdrawals passed Thursday night.

Most of the fire and fury is expected to be furnished by Welsh, making a political comeback attempt, and business man—athlete Paul G. Goebel, candidate of a reform group.

The other two candidates are incumbent Stanley J. Davis and lumber dealer Frederick E. Stiles.

After nearly 12 years in office

Welsh resigned last summer in the face of a recall movement. He was the chief target of a citizens action group which rallied to the support of Goebel's brother, Frank, who was fired as city manager.

With four in the race, the possibility of a run-off election loomed. If no candidate receives a majority the top two will run again in April.

Wars Of Future Won't Be Any Fun

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(P)—The push-button war of the future may never come for a very simple reason—it doesn't hold much prospect of fun.

Wars in the past have offered exciting change from the humdrum of peace to a large part of the population.

The terror, boredom and danger of the front lines affected only a small proportion of the people. The civilians at home, unworried

HAL BOYLE by fear of death, found the annoyances of rationing and higher taxes more than made up for by their enlarged sense of self-importance.

They were caught up by a thrilling feeling of unity that carried them out of their ordinary small frustrations. The factory worker became "the soldier behind the soldier at the front." Women found an escape from the petty world of household chores. They found they could hold a riveting machine as well as the next guy, and war opened to them a whole new round of social activities with a purpose—helping sell bonds, entertain at USO clubs, collect blood, roll bandages.

Yes, war made everybody feel useful and necessary. And few saw the blood on the battlefields far away.

Recent wars have been less and less rewarding, however, for the men who actually carry the guns. In the old days victorious warriors looted towns and took their pick of the enemy's pretty womenfolk.

I wouldn't say this didn't happen on occasion in the last world war, but it was the exception rather than the rule. Our doughboys used to joke that the last thing the retreating Nazis did before pulling out of one of their cities was to stick up a sign saying: "Off limits to all Allied Troops."

And on a national scale victory has only brought more responsibility. As soon as you quit kicking a foe, you have to start lending him money, shipping him food, and rebuilding his homeland.

It seems to me that the development of the hydrogen bomb has squeezed the last small ounce of fun out of war.

No Bravery Needed

We are in the twilight of the man-flown bomber and the finger-pulled rifle trigger. Military leaders warn we haven't reached the push button stage of war yet, but we will within 25 years.

Of what avail will bravery be then? It won't take a brave man to point an H-bomb at the enemy and send it whistling away in a piloted rocket. The soldiers will be technicians, the generals will command armies of machines instead of men.

And what fun will there be for the civilian population? None. War will become a matter of population endurance, as each side waits for its cities to disappear. A great city is the harvest of millions of men over hundreds of years. Why burn up that long gain of culture and concrete in one tremendous flash of million-degree hydrogen heat?

If nations think this over—and there are signs they will—the H-bomb may turn out to be a great blessing. It will surely never be dropped if everybody realizes that war is no longer fun for anybody, or profitable for anybody, but death or ruin for practically all.

Then peace can become the

COMEDY TEAM—If you're inclined to think one can't skate on skis, better see the 12th annual Escanaba Ice Review which will be presented at the indoor rink in the U. P. Fairgrounds exhibition building Feb. 9, 10, 11 and 12. Jim Boucher and John Moore have a special comedy number worked up for this show, and, from all reports, the act is very good. John Moore is Little Blue Boy in the number and Boucher skates on skis. Twenty separate numbers, seven of them live productions, will be featured in the ice show, under direction of Mrs. Jeanette LeCaptain. Music for the show will be furnished by Bill Clark at the Hammond organ. Larry Girard will be master of ceremonies. Settings for the 20 numbers were made by Don Sullivan, C. E. Johnson, Bill Davis, Bert Goodreau and Robert Plave, set chairman. (Daily Press Photo)

The Third Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

What Has Gone Before

Today's ad is the third in a series telling about times the anti-trust lawyers made serious and damaging charges against A&P that the courts decided were not true.

In the first ad in this series we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, and other good American citizens, conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington.

These charges were false.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But that was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false. In our second ad we told you about the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they charged A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, with conspiring to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Here again, as in the Washington bread case, the charges were false.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So here were two cases in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P, in which the judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

Today, we want to tell you about the third time —this time in Dallas, Texas—the court decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

Is it a crime to give people more good food for their money?

For 90 years A&P has devoted all its energies to this end.

For many months now the anti-trust lawyers from Washington have been giving stories to the newspapers, making speeches and talking over the radio about this company.

They have been making serious and damaging allegations about the methods that enable A&P to give its customers better food values.

We have already told you about other times the anti-trust lawyers made charges against us that were proved utterly false in court.

In the left-hand column on this page you can read what the federal judges had to say about those two cases. Now we are going to tell you about the third time a federal judge decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

The Dallas Anti-Trust Suit

In 1942 the anti-trust lawyers went out to Dallas, Texas, 1,400 miles from the homes of most of the defendants, and instigated criminal charges against A&P.

About this case one thing was sure.

Their previous experience did not deter the anti-trust lawyers from making more inflammatory and damaging allegations, just as they had done before.

They made practically the same allegations they are making today.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Judge Atwell also said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trial than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

In short, Federal Judge Atwell threw the anti-trust lawyers and their case right out of his court.

So that makes three times that the anti-trust lawyers made damaging allegations against A&P. In two of these cases federal judges said they were all wrong. In the third case a federal judge said the indictment was inflammatory and he would not even permit the case to be tried. The anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with the Dallas decision. Neither were they satisfied with the two other decisions in which federal courts administered stinging rebukes to them.

They were still determined to destroy A&P.

In our next ad we will tell you how they continued their campaign in this case in the Circuit Court of Appeals and subsequent proceedings.

We will show you how, once again, they disagreed with the courts.

Everything that has happened since this suit was filed proves that the American people don't want A&P destroyed. A deluge of letters from people in all walks of life and thousands of editorials in newspapers and magazines convince us that the public has faith in A&P.

The housewives of this nation, whose patronage has made this company big, are buying from us in increasing numbers and increasing volume.

Our suppliers, whom the anti-trust lawyers allege we have exploited, are rushing to our support.

Labor leaders, mindful of the fact that A&P employees enjoy the best wages, hours and working conditions, are taking a stand against the suit.

Even many of our good competitors, who the anti-trust lawyers allege are hurt by our competition, have taken ads to tell the public that they don't like this attack on A&P.

All this indicates that the American people realize that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency, against low prices and against real competition.

Apparently most Americans do not want to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on any businessman who does a better and more efficient job and grows big in the process.

No one can make them believe it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

Delta Walleye Haul For 1949 Is 750,000 Pounds

Coming up from a relatively unimportant position, the Green Bay walleye last year took its place among the major food fishes produced in Michigan waters, the conservation department reported today.

The take of walleyes from Lake Michigan, primarily Green Bay, shot up from 599,000 pounds in 1948 to 1,045,000 pounds in 1949, the department revealed. Of this total for last year, local fishermen and dealers estimate that 750,000 pounds were taken by Delta county fishermen operating out of Little and Big Bays de Noe.

Saginaw Bay, once a productive walleye fishing area, now produces only a few thousand pounds annually. Fishermen cite the end of the federal hatchery planting of walleyes in 1937 at Saginaw as factor in the decline of the walleye there.

Seek Regulations
More intensive fishing, including the use of trap nets, was considered the cause of the increase in walleye production in 1949 in Green Bay waters. The take almost doubled during the past year.

Commercial and sports fishermen, with others interested in maintaining local walleye production, have suggested certain local fishing regulations. These proposals have been placed before the governor for action at the special legislative session this coming spring.

Delta county commercial fishermen last year reported hauls upwards of one million pounds each for smelt and herring; and about 700,000 pounds of whitefish. Lake trout were described as "a thing of the past here."

Total Is Down

Commercial fish haul in total from Michigan waters of the Great Lakes dropped from an above normal 30,000,000 pounds in 1948 to slightly below average 24,964,000 pounds in 1949, according to near-final figures released by the conservation department's fish division. A 26,000,000-pound-

Michigan Commercial Fishing Catch Drops Off 5,000,000 Pounds

LANSING—(P)—Nearly final figures indicated that Michigan's catch of commercial fish totaled a below-average 24,964,000 pounds in 1949, the conservation department reported today.

This was a drop of more than 5,000,000 pounds from the 30,000,000-haul of 1948. The average take is 26,000,000 pounds annually.

Whitefish recorded the greatest decline with the take falling from 3,875,000 pounds to 2,400,000. This, however, was still above the average catch which did not exceed 2,000,000 pounds.

Herring crop, which again accounted for largest production, dropped slightly downward from 9,033,000 pounds to 8,388,000 pounds. Lake Superior catch of 4,052,000 pounds was best.

Lamprey Takes Toll

Over 2,500,000 pounds of chubs, bulk from Lake Michigan, turned up in the nets as against 2,257,000 pounds in 1948. Fish division officials attribute the increase to a concentration on chub fishing due to lake trout scarcity.

Increased fishing pressure may have been responsible for a smaller comparative drop in the take of lake trout in Lake Superior—2,129,000 pounds taken last year contrasted to 2,161,000 pounds in 1948. With 220,000 pounds from Lake Michigan and 1,000 from Lake Huron, the Great Lakes total was down from 2,754,000 pounds to 2,350,000 pounds in 1949. The sea lamprey is blamed for the continued smaller take of at least the lake trout. Still this species accounted for the fourth largest take.

Michigan commercial fishermen reported 2,013,000 pounds of white suckers and mullets, 500,000 pounds less than in 1948. Fishermen also recorded better catches of smelt—1,059,000 pounds, practically all from Lake Michigan, compared to 627,000 pounds in 1948.

Television Uses Skip-Week Plan

NEW YORK—(P)—Because of the complications of television production, the type of program that can be presented on alternate weeks is beginning to appear. Thus two weeks of preparation are available instead of one.

"Rented the first day" said Smith.

Wood Is Candidate For Legislature*Inquest Held On Wood Death*Purely Accidental, Says Coroner's Jury

That the death of Mrs. Irene Wood, at the Houghton Street crossing Thursday night, was entirely accidental was the verdict of a coroner's jury following an inquest at the office of William J. Sheahan, county prosecutor, Wednesday morning.

At the inquest, called by Coroner Ed V. Jackson, witnesses of the tragedy and the scene immediately following were called and presented evidence. Those testifying were Nate Carstensen, a resident of North Houghton avenue, who was not far from the scene when the accident happened; John Stock, Soo Line fireman; J. L. Stitt, engineer; Carl Nelson, flagman; and Trooper Harold Snyder.

On the coroner's jury were Everett Anderson, Niel Reese, A. M. Farley, Dave Westin, Gust Larson and Clint Leonard.

Local Girl Is Making Good At Ski Jumping

Art Allen, ski mentor of Manistique and vicinity, is beginning to wonder if skiing, which has been locally rated as a diversion for men and boys, is really going to maintain such a status.

He is wondering because, the other day when he was out to the ski hill he saw a little mite of humanity take off and sail through the air and land with grace and ease that was little short of amazing.

"What's his name?" Art asked. "Her name is Beverly Gentz," was his reply. Her skiing was on par with the best of the boys, and her distance was almost as good. Beverly, by the way, is the 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Gentz, of 539 Cherry street.

"This is what I have been looking for—a girl ski jumper," says Allen, "and I hope more will be ambitious along that line."

Beverly is believed to be the only girl ski jumper in Upper Michigan and Allen is anxious that others take up the sport and give the boys a bit of competition.

Sea slugs range in color from sandy through pink, dark red and black, says the National Geographic Society.

Youth Fund Drive Trails*Increase In Gifts From Public Sought

People of Manistique will have to be far more generous in their contributions to the Boy and Girl Scout organizations and the local youth center if those very important projects are to function here this coming year, is the jointly voiced opinion of the committee appointed about two months ago to raise $5,000 for those causes.

At a meeting of committee members, held Monday afternoon, results of the drive were noted and it was found that about $1,700 has been raised locally to further the work.

This amount, woefully below the figure sought, cannot hope to do justice to the effort and it was therefore decided by the committee members that the need be emphasized and that the campaign be extended until March 1.

"There have been so many other causes needing our attention and so many other fund drives on or shortly to begin, that these needs of our young people have been lost in the shuffle," says Don MacLean, chairman of the committee. He added that it would be little less than tragic if the Boy and Girl Scout movements, which are functioning so splendidly at present should have to suffer from lack of financial support.

This committee, made up of representatives of various organizations in the city, has the following:

The Columbus township school board, his twelfth as a member of the Luce county road commission and his eleventh as chairman of the Luce County Republican committee.

He is wondering because, the other day when he was out to the ski hill he saw a little mite of humanity take off and sail through the air and land with grace and ease that was little short of amazing.

"What's his name?" Art asked. "Her name is Beverly Gentz," was his reply. Her skiing was on par with the best of the boys, and her distance was almost as good. Beverly, by the way, is the 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Gentz, of 539 Cherry street.

Menominee Battles Eskys Here Friday

Improving with every game, the Escanaba Eskymos, who held the Gladstone Braves to a six-point victory in the Gladstone gym Tuesday night after bowing to them here by a 29-point margin earlier in the season, will be host to the Menominee Maroons at the junior high gym here tomorrow night.

The varsity fives will tangle at 8:30 and the reserves at 7. Al Rudness, of Negauene, and Ray

Trojans Travel To Stephenson Friday Night

The St. Joseph's Trojans defeated Stephenson here Dec. 17 by the score of 56-48 and tomorrow night they'll try more of the same when they battle the Eagles at Stephenson.

If the charm holds, they should make out okeh, for the Escanaba Eskymos, who have not shattered any marks elsewhere, beat the Eagles both at home and away from home.

Spouting a 9-4 record to date, the Trojans will be out to regain their winning stride after dropping a 57-46 game to a very good Marquette Redmen quintet here last Saturday.

Jack Miron will be at center, Don Paulin and either Wayne Papineau or Billy Baker at forwards and Ron Hirn and Pete Kuches at guards. Jack Courteme, regular forward for some time now, has a leg charleyhorse, suffered in practice, and although he will be suited up he may not see much, if any, action.

The Stephenson-St. Joseph's reserve game will start at 8, Escanaba time, and the main game at 9:30.

Detroit Wings Make Merry At Hawks' Expense In 9-2 Go

DETROIT.—(P)—The victory-hungry Detroit Red Wings made merry last night at the expense of their hapless neighbors, the Chicago Blackhawks.

When the debacle at Olympia finally dragged to a conclusion, the Wings had posted a lopsided 9-2 win to snap a streak of eight games without a triumph.

A crowd of 11,179 National hockey league fans saw the massacre which was marked by these events:

1—It was the highest goal total of the season for the Detroiters, who previously had hit the seven-goal mark in three games.

2—Ted Lindsay, the NHL's leading scorer, dished in a goal to end a drought that lasted 13 games. He had piled up some assists in that time but had no luck netting a tally himself.

The Wings staged their biggest blitz of the campaign when they banged in three goals within four minutes in the final period.

The Detroiters' winless streak included six ties and two losses. Oddly enough, it began after Jan. 21 when they beat the Chicago team 5-3.

Marty Pavelich, Gordie Howe and Jimmy Peters banged in a pair of goals apiece last night to pace the scoring.

McCosky Gets The Green Light From Athletics' Doctors

DETROIT.—(P)—Barney McCosky, hard-luck outfielder of the Philadelphia Athletics got a go-ahead sign from doctors today for his plans to play baseball again this season.

McCosky recently underwent an operation to correct a back condition which caused him to miss the entire 1949 season.

"The doctors told me it would be okay to drive to spring training camp in Florida and I'll certainly be there on opening day," McCosky said.

The 31-year-old outfielder said the doctors told him to devote the first three or four weeks simply to strengthening his leg and back muscles.

"They told me not to touch a bat until April 1, but they also forecasted that I'd probably be available for limited service by April 15," he said happily.

"After that it will be just a question of time until I can break into the regular lineup," McCosky added.

Perkins Tips Rock, 55-46

PERKINS—Perkins high school took up a notch of slack in its Central U. P. Basketball league belt last night by defeating the Rock prep cagers, 55-46, in a league game here.

The starting Perkins five played the whole game, Don Depuyt scoring 16 points for high tally honors. He got plenty of help from his mates, however, particularly Harris, Krouth and Selander.

Perkins led 15-6 at the quarter and 31-18 at halftime, but Rock came to life in the third session to close the gap to 39-35 before Perkins strengthened its lead in the finale. The win gave Perkins a 3-7 record in league play.

In the preliminary, Rock reserves won, 34-24.

Due to circumstances beyond our control, as the radio announcers say when a program kinks out, we have not as yet nodded over our approval of Gene Ronzani's selection as Curly Lambeau's successor to head the Green Bay pack.

Thus, belatedly but nevertheless sincerely — since we have commented a time or two on the Green Bay situation — we wish to go on record as saying that the selection is a good one and we certainly wish Ronzani and the entire Packer family every success.

The Johnny Moerchen-Dick Shatusky-Bob Amory powered Maroons will try to make it two wins over Escanaba as a prelude to district tournament play when Stephenson, Menominee and Escanaba tangle.

Yes, Baltic plans to start his maximum-height forward line of Paul Baldwin, Anderson and Shomni and his regular defensive duo, Buddy Weber and Warren "Jo Jo" Johnston.

The first reaction to Lambeau's resignation—apart from a deep sigh—was: "Who in the world can get who knows his way around professional football circles—all the angles, all the contacts?" And that was a big question mark.

But Ronzani's your boy! He's been a key figure in the Chicago Bear family for 17 years, and it is our guess that you pretty well have all the answers after 17 years of hobnobbing with George Halas. Ronzani is a smart cookie. He'll do all right. His housecleaning tactics for a fresh start, despite the value of such men as Tom Stidham, is evidence that Ronzani, making the biggest step of his football career, is thinking this thing through—this job of putting the Packers back on the pedestal.

And George Strickler, the Packers' so-called PRO (public relations officer), is among those missing, but he won't be missed. Us people in the Upper Peninsula didn't get to know him, anyway. Seems to me he was always hobnobbing with the bigwigs in Milwaukee and points East and West.

So it's a new Packer deal, and Ronzani's making sure of the pedestal.

Cuff notes: Just to correct the record, it was Stanley Kusmirek, of Munising, who trained the Munising boys for the U. P. Golden Gloves and not George Dougherty. . . We had a phone talk with Dougherty after Donald Hase won his first match at Milwaukee and got the impression that he had trained Hase . . . But we are informed from Munising that Kusmirek trained ALL the Munising fighters . . . So take a bow, Kusmirek . . . They did a swell job.

Here's one for the books: Stephenson, Menominee and Escanaba are the three Class B teams in this district . . . Stephenson gets the bye to the finals on its 5-2 record against Class B competition . . . Menominee has a 4-7 mark and Escanaba a 2-7 record . . . Stephenson's only Class B losses are to Escanaba and Escanaba's only Class B wins are over Stephenson . . . Stephenson, twice loser to Escanaba, has the seeded position.

See Merchants, winner of Hermansville's Gold Medal tourney last year, were the first entries this year . . . The Escanaba Shamrocks will compete in the Pechito Invitational car race meet this weekend . . . Sunday, Feb. 19, the Shamrocks will play at St. Ignace . . . Jack Hammerberg, Crystal Falls, and Bill Colenso, Houghton, are members of the Ferris Institute basketball team.

The Bauer girls, Mary Agnes Wall Winners

PALM BEACH, Fla.—(P)—The Bauer sisters—Alice and Marlene—continued to pace the field in the 40th annual Palm Beach Women's Golf Tournament today.

The Bauer girls, who led qualifiers Tuesday with par 72s over the Palm Beach Iold Club course, won their first round matches yesterday by convincing margins. Alice, who is 22, defeated Betty Bush of Hammond, Ind., 4 and 3, and her 15-year-old sister, Marlene, beat Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, 3 and 2.

Defending Champion Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, seeking her third title, defeated Catherine Fox Park, Glen Ridge, N. J., 3 and 1.

Betty Mackinnon, Mt. Pleasant Texas, who defeated Pat Devany, Grossie Ile, Mich., will meet Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich., who beat Bonnie Randolph, Columbus, Ohio, 3 and 2.

Shamrocks Defeat Silver Foxes, 50-47

HERMANVILLE—The Escanaba Shamrocks had a tough time doing it but they managed to beat the Hermansville Silver Foxes of the NWM league in a feature exhibition here last night. The score was 50-47.

The Shamrocks led 26-22 at half-time and 46-43 going into the last three minutes of play. The win gave the Escanabans an overall record of 15-5 for the season. Tom St. Germain was top scorer with 18 points. Ed Gauthier dipped in 13. Tony Machalk topped the Foxes with 16 counters.

to town in a big way the last couple of weeks and the prospect that Manistique has better than an even chance against its traditional rival is milk and honey to their supporters. You can bank on a whale of a crowd.

Manistique is a good basketball town. Through the years—regardless of whether the team has been doing well or not, ever yegame has been attended by a near capacity crowd. There were times this year when the showing was definitely poor but the crowds remained vocally loyal. And now, after the home team has dumped two of the strongest teams in Upper Michigan and won three games in a row basketball has become the town's main topic of conversation.

In the season to date, Manistique has won but four of the 12 games it has played, the only early season win being against St. Joseph of Escanaba. But just when local supporters were about to chalk this up as another poor season, the Emeralds got into stride. The change is not just a fluke. In their recent games against Negauene and Saul Ste. Marie, the Emeralds have shown great potency.

Following are the scores thus far:

Manistique 27, American Soc. 65. Manistique 30, Canadian Soc. 38. Manistique 27, Gladstone 46. Manistique 48, St. Joseph 43. Manistique 53, Menominee 60. Manistique 40, Newberry 49. Manistique 32, Canadian Soc. 46. Manistique 32, Munising 33. Manistique 31, Stephenson 37. Manistique 43, Negauene 42. Manistique 39, Soo 36. Manistique 47, Munising 39.

Call Hearing After Walcott Knocks Out 22-Year-Old Foe

PHILADELPHIA.—(P)—The Pennsylvania Athletic commission called a hearing today in the sudden collapse of Harold Johnson during last night's fight with Jersey Joe Walcott.

Johnson, a 22-year-old Philadelphia Negro heavyweight dropped to the canvas in the third round of a scheduled 10-round at the arena—unable to continue because of a back injury.

Although calling an inquiry, John DaGrosa, state athletic commissioner, said he was convinced Johnson was in too much pain to go on fighting.

"I am sure that there was nothing irregular," Da Grosa said.

Working Hard In Ruhr Mines

Coal Miners Earn
About $2.50 A Day

By ROBERT BALL

DORTMUND, Germany — "Kumpel" is what the Ruhr coal miners call themselves. The name which means "companion," is more than a simple designation.

It implies membership in a fraternity of hard work, dust, and danger, of long hours and low pay.

Max Weber is a real "Kumpel," like his father and grandfather before him. At sixteen he started as a breaker; now, at sixty-two, he is still in the pits. Self-confident with a strong pride in his work, Weber accepts with a shrug the new demands that Europe's crying need for coal places on him and his fellow miners.

In "Dorfstiel 1-4," the mine in which Weber works for an average wage of $2.50 a day, the work goes around the clock. Two day shifts break and load the coal, while the night shift, on which Weber works, moves the conveyors up to the coal face for the next day's breaking. The pay of all the miners is figured not hourly, but on the average amount of coal that is broken.

The worst working conditions that Weber remembers were under the Nazis. "They had us working three-quarters of an hour extra on each shift," he explained. "Side by side with Russian prisoners." Weber is scornful of the Nazi attempts to indoctrinate the miners. At one time the authorities tried to substitute "Hell Hitler" for the traditional "Gluck auf" (Good luck) greeting to the oncoming shift. "That never caught on," said Weber.

Just after the war, with the mines shut down, conditions were desperate for the miners. "We were sure the Americans wouldn't let us starve," Weber said. "But naturally, deliveries of food weren't always on time. Sometimes we didn't have as much as a potato in the house." Even after the mines began operations, output and morale remained low. In the autumn of 1947, however, a quota system was established for the Ruhr mines, with CARE packages as incentives. In order to receive a package, each breaker-loader team had to average a ton per man per day for the month. We got our packages, Weber laughed, "but we earned them. What a celebration we had at home. My five daughters hadn't seen a chocolate or anything like that for years. When it was all over, I had the cigarettes from the package and that's all. But that's a father's duty. I guess any father in America would do the same."

"Morale is much better since the currency reform," Weber stated. "We have new machinery—a new air compressor and new conveyor belts—and better food. A piece of meat once in a while and a little butter make a lot of difference. Besides, we don't worry so much now about the Russians. We trust the United States."

Weber is satisfied with the work of the miner's union. He scoffed at Communist influence among the miners. "Not for us," he claimed. "I wish you could get to know some of the other miners. We have some really smart men down here in the pits. The Communists don't make any more headway with us than the Nazis did."

Weber is also satisfied with the lower echelon management. "Our mine manager is an old miner," he remarked. "He's been here 25 years and he understands us. He has a tough job. You see, our mine is a bad-luck mine. There's no stone roof over the veins so you have to be careful. But the people up above keep speeding us up, setting the quotas higher, and it's up to him to see that we meet them. But we don't hold it against him. He can't help it."

I asked him if he thought the quotas demanded too much from the miners. "Bah," Weber answered. "We've never known any thing but hard work all our lives. We can take it. Anyway, the new machines make it easier. By the way, is it true that American miners still have to break the coal out with picks?"

I assured Weber that U. S. mines were at least as mechanized as German ones and put down my pen.

"Wait a minute," Weber said.

"There's something I want you to put in the newspaper. We miners know that it's our coal that's putting Germany back on her feet, but we don't care about wage raises any more. We've had those up and everything is the same. What we want is for prices to go down, so we can buy more with what we have. We work eight hours a day, six days a week; we get 'miners' lung' from the dust and hands whose joints are paralyzed from holding the compressed air drill. I know that lots of people think we're like animals because we work underground, but they don't know us. We read the newspapers and we go to church, and we raise our children to be good citizens, just like other people. We deserve better than what we have."

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of aching backsides, of feet and ankles, backs and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your complaints are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often be temporary, it's smart to keep stock on hand. It's money well spent.
